Acrimonious Debate Between Dawes and Butler.

SAUL OF TARSUS AND JUDAS ISCARIOT.

Discussion of the Legislative Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12, 1870.

Personalities in the House—Acrimonious Debate Between Butler and Dawes.

There was another series of fights in the House today between Ben Butler and Mr. Dawes while the Legislative Appropriation bill was under consideration. Butler seems determined to have a quarrel with Dawes, and he embraces every opportunity to twit him on his celebrated economy speech. Butler has become the champion, not only of the President, but of the heads of departments generally. He will not allow any of their acts to be questioned. He denies the right of any person to criticize their expenditures. When somebody intimated to-day that the departments were extravagant in the matter of printing Mr. Butler was on his feet in an instant. He did not see why the House should undertake to regulate the amount of printing that the head of a department might need. He thought the Committee on Appropriations had no business to cut down the estimates, and that the heads of departments knew their business well when they made up their estimates. This brought Dawes to his feet. He didn't want to hear lectures from Butler. If the heads of departments had a duty to perform, he said, he would not propose to be driven from it. He alluded to Butler's sudden conversion to the republican party. This is one of Ben's tender spots. He came back at Dawes, but not quite so effectively as he did at Senator Cox. He was tired of hearing himself compared to "Saul of Tarsus." With a meekness quite foreign to him he pleaded guilty to having voted for Jeff Davis; that his conversion to republicanism was a sudden one, and that he had not been so long in the republican party as some other folks. He had no doubt there were many who would stand by Judas only because he was the oldest disciple. By Jingo it is understood he meant Dawes. The personalities in the House and Senate are becoming so common of late that the habits of the capital almost cease to notice them. It is only to a stranger that they appear odd or of the beaten track.

Encouragement of the Shipbuilding Interest—Harbor and Pilot Fees to be Abolished.

The Select Committee on American Navigation interests have agreed to report a bill allowing drawbacks on all shipbuilding material, not to exceed eight dollars per ton on wooden sailing vessels, ten dollars per ton on composite sailing vessels, ten dollars per ton on wooden steamers, twelve dollars per ton on composite steamers, twelve dollars per ton on iron sailing vessels, and fifteen dollars per ton on iron steamers. When the materials used are of home production equivalent amounts are to be allowed. The second section allows ship stores and coal to be shipped and consumed free of duty. The third section allows an annual subsidy to American vessels engaged in the carrying trade for over six months in the year between American and foreign ports, or between several foreign ports, as follows:—With the British American provinces, $1.50 per ton for sailing vessels or steamers; with European ports, four dollars per ton for steamers; with all other foreign ports, three dollars per ton for steamers. The committee will also report a bill substituting for all tonnage dues, pilotage fees or other taxes imposed by State or municipal laws.

Quarterly Statement of the Treasury.

The Treasury statement, showing the receipts and expenditures by warrants for the quarter ending December 31, 1869, was issued to-day. The following exhibit was made:—

| RECEIPTS. | |
|--|---------------|
| Tax on imports | $79,393,608 |
| Tax on exports | 25,420,239 |
| Loans and Treasury notes | 22,975,930 |
| Impayments | 1,984,360 |
| Total | $129,774,237 |
| EXPENDITURES. | |
| Civil and miscellaneous | $11,445,968 |
| War, Navy, Interior and Indians and pensions | 25,380,995 |
| Interest on public debt | 10,220,712 |
| Purchase of United States bonds | 40,271,915 |
| Redemption of the public debt | 5,422,712 |
| Total | $107,762,382 |

Total balance in Treasury, December 31, 1869, $23,011,855.

The above is a correct statement of the receipts and expenditures by warrants for the quarter ending Dec. 31, 1869, as appears by the books and accounts of the department. The balance in the Treasury Sept. 30, 1869, by this statement is $43,611,194 in excess of the balance as published in the Treasury Department Dec. 1, 1869, by the statement of the Treasury Department. The difference is $18,177,000 in excess of the balance as published in the statement of Jan. 1, 1870. These differences are accounted for by the fact that the expenditures are all known and included in the monthly debt statement, while the receipts being taken from the returns in the office at the close of business on the last day of each month do not include the entire receipts for the quarter.

The Colored Senator Lecturing Congressmen on Amalgamation of Debate.

Senator Revels, the new colored Senator from Mississippi, remarked to-day that his State would probably have been admitted by this time but for the inter personalities which prevail in the House and Senate. He said he deprecates these things, and is sorry to see the Senators and members forgetting the high duties of statesmanship and stooping to low personal attacks upon each other. This is not the way, he thinks, to dignify the position to which they have been elevated by the people.

Correspondence Between Secretary Robeson and Admiral Farragut on the Bill for the Reorganization of the Navy.

The Secretary of the Navy has addressed the following letter to Glenn W. Scott, chairman of the House Committee on Naval Affairs:—

NAVY DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, Feb. 12, 1870.

SIR:—I have the honor to submit herewith, for your consideration and that of the committee, the copy of a correspondence between myself and Admiral Farragut in relation to bill No. 970, entitled "A Bill for the Reorganization of the Navy of the United States." Very respectfully, your obedient servant.

GEO. M. ROBESON, Secretary of the Navy.

The following is Secretary Robeson's letter to Admiral Farragut:—

NAVY DEPARTMENT, Feb. 7, 1870.

SIR:—I enclose you a copy of a letter that I have written to the naval committee in relation to the reorganization of the navy. I enclose a copy of a bill which I consider will meet the wants of the navy. There are some conflicting statements in regard to your opinion, and I should be gratified to know what are really the views of the senior officer of the navy. Will you, therefore, be kind enough to examine the bill and accompanying letter, and give me your views on them and the subjects therein referred to as soon as you conveniently can? Very respectfully, your obedient servant.

GEO. M. ROBESON, Secretary of the Navy.

Admiral P. Farragut, United States Navy.

Admiral Farragut's reply is as follows:—

SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt, through Commander Sherris, of your communication of the 7th inst., enclosing a copy of bill No. 970, entitled "A Bill for the Reorganization of the Navy of the United States." I am very glad to hear that you are so anxious to see the bill, and I am sure you will find it very interesting. I have read it with much interest, and I am sure it will be of great value to the navy. I am sure you will find it very interesting. I have read it with much interest, and I am sure it will be of great value to the navy.

QUANTARINE AFFAIRS.

Ship Owners and Others Stating Their Grievances—The Powers and Profits of Quarantine Officials—Plan for Preventing a Repetition—Ex Post Facto Charges.

FORWARD TO NOTICE given, the Commissioners of Quarantine—Messrs. Wilson, G. Hunt, Dr. A. N. Bell and Samuel Hartman—met yesterday afternoon at the office of the Washington Life Insurance Company, No. 155 Broadway, for the purpose of hearing any statements or complaints that shipowners or others might have to offer. The Health Officer of the Port, Dr. Carnochan; the counsel to the Commissioners, Mr. H. W. Johnson, and a large number of shipowners and representatives of leading merchants were present, and much interest was manifested in the statements made.

Mr. James Van Buren, from the vessel owners' and Captains' Co-operative Association, presented a petition from those engaged in the coastwise trade showing that vessels coming from the coast were obliged to stop at quarantine each trip, and if arriving there after sundown, were compelled to wait till next morning, losing thus at times entire days, which, in the course of the year, makes an item of some importance, and acts as a drawback upon commerce, already much depressed. The petition showed, further, that, as a sort of retaliatory measure, the authorities of Maryland had adopted the same quarantine regulations in regard to vessels arriving at Baltimore from Northern and Eastern ports.

The discussion then took the form of a somewhat desultory conversation, and resulted in showing that many abuses had been perpetrated by some parties at quarantine for their own profit.

Mr. Buck stated that he had known of instances where passengers wishing to come to the city from vessels in quarantine in the Lower Bay were charged four dollars each. He stated that the vessel owners wishing to have their cargoes discharged were obliged to engage the lighters recommended by the quarantine officials, and had to pay exactly twice as much as they would have had to pay to any other lighters. He thought that inasmuch as the quarantine was intended to benefit the people, the State should not be paying the fees.

Mr. Barker, from the Ship Owners' Association, said that as Congress alone was authorized by the constitution to regulate commerce, the State had no right to impose a tax for hospital fees, and that the six and a half dollars charged for quarantine fees was a direct tax upon commerce, and that the State should not be imposing such a tax.

THE PARAGUAYAN WAR.

The Progress of the War—Romero's Operations—An Englishman's Opinion of Lopez's Position—Don Pedro Determined to Annihilate Lopez—Count D'Eu on the Same Track—The Minis- ters Want Peace.

RIO JANEIRO, Jan. 1, 1870.

The latest news from Paraguay is contained in the following telegram from Asuncion, sent by Minister Paranhos on the 19th of December:—

"His Highness (the Brazilian Generalissimo), the Comte d'Eu has gone to Curumaty and Igatemy to take measures which will enable us to know where Lopez has concealed himself or by what course he is feeling. General Canama will set out on the 24th with a strong force, which will be a complete surprise to the Paraguayans, and will be a complete surprise to the Paraguayans, and will be a complete surprise to the Paraguayans."

The last operation was that already reported, in which General Canama, hearing that Romero, with 300 Paraguayans, had made a descent on the Brazilian cattle preserves, set out with 3,000 men and dispersed the raiders, taking a few prisoners and recovering most of the cattle. His horses, however, were so completely used up that he could not continue after Romero, and he was forced to return to Concepcion to get fresh ones and recruit those not utterly useless. According to the telegram he was to march on the 24th to try and penetrate to the northern part of the mountains where Lopez is said to be, and the Comte d'Eu was to try to follow by the course Lopez had retraced.

An Englishman in the Brazilian service, long in that of Lopez, and acquainted with the region into which he was sent, has written a letter to the Times, in which he says that the Paraguayans are very strong, and that it would be impossible to force the mountain position from the Brazilians. He says that the Paraguayans are very strong, and that it would be impossible to force the mountain position from the Brazilians.
